

Dear Families and Friends,

On behalf of Wellspring Learning Community, we are honored to welcome our 15 newly installed Wellspring Parent Advisory Committee for the 2022-24 Academic School Years. Under a representative's supervision from Lebanon's Ministry of Education and Higher Education on Wednesday, December 15th, Mr. Mohamad Ayoub confirmed the process. The school would like to thank our 15 enthusiastic members who will continue the committee's important relationship with Wellspring which stems back to Wellspring's first WPAC meeting in 2009.

As being a WPAC representative is rewarding, it also can be a burden at times when their grade level constituents do not follow Wellspring's Communication procedures for parent issues. The school kindly asks all Wellspring parents to respect the personal space and hours of our WPAC members by using the school's procedure when it comes to individual issues that involve a particular subject, teacher, classroom procedure or behavior.

- The teacher is the initial person to contact with an email, face to face meeting or even meet via Teams or Zoom to resolve an issue that your child is facing.
- If the teacher is unable to act, contact the EY Head or the Elementary Principal for help.
- As a last resort because you feel the issue still persists, please fill out the Parent Complaint form found on the school's website under the login button that appears on the top banner of the home page. Use parent (username) and password Parent_123 to find the active form.

As Wellspring representatives do have school email addresses that we are asking all families to use as a direct line to your representative. Although you may know individual's private emails, the school would like to keep all correspondence as professional and school related.
